Core Objectives

This course fulfills three hours of the Communications requirement in the Midland College Core Curriculum. The Core Curriculum is a set of courses that provide students with a foundation of knowledge, skills, and educational experiences that are essential for all learning. The URL for the core Curriculum is http://catalog.midland.edu/preview\_program.php?catoid=6&pooid=738 .

Communication courses present effective strategies that can improve communication to strengthen personal and workplace relationships. As part of the core, this course addresses the following four objectives:

Critical Thinking: The course implements strategic thinking in word choice and awareness of nonverbal message sending; in strengthening personal relationships; in developing and delivering effective presentations; and in offering feedback to other presenters so they can improve their presentations.

Communication: The course includes effective intrapersonal, interpersonal, group, interviewing, and public communication techniques that will improve communication. This is done through classroom discussion and exercises, research projects, writing, and presenting to the class.

Teamwork: Teamwork involves working and communicating with others to meet a specific goal. Students will learn effective teamwork strategies through group work in class exercises as well as a group project and presentation.

Personal responsibility: Students will demonstrate the ability to make ethical strategic choices in their communication. They will do original writing and research, participate in a group where they have responsibility for a part of the project, and present individually and with a group.

ACADEMIC DISHONESTY

Plagiarism is defined as the appropriation, buying, receiving as a gift, or obtaining by any means another's work and the unacknowledged submission or incorporation of it in one's own written work offered for credit. A student commits plagiarism if he/she:

- 1. fails to acknowledge the sources of any information in a paper which is not either common knowledge or personal knowledge. A student can acknowledge a source through in-text citations, attribution lines, footnotes, or other forms of documentation approved by the instructor. (Common knowledge is the basic information within a field or discipline, as well as most historical dates and facts, and many ordinary observations.)
- 2. fails to acknowledge direct quotation either by using quotation marks or (for longer passages) indentation. Without the quotation marks or indentation, passages copied directly from a source might be considered plagiarized even if it is followed by an in-text citation or a footnote. The citation or footnote acknowledges that there is a source, but it does not indicate that the writer has borrowed someone else's exact words. If a writer uses the language of a source, word-for word, he/she must use quotation marks or block indentation.

3. merely paraphrases the original words of the source. Some students think they can avoid a charge of plagiarism by changing a few words in each sentence they copy or by rearranging the shape of phrases or the order of sentences in a paragraph. This is not true. When taking notes students must be careful to put ideas in their own words or to use direct quotations when relying on phrases directly borrowed from a source.

4. borrows the ideas, examples, or structure of the source without acknowledging it. A student can be guilty of plagiarism if he/she systematically borrows the ideas and organization of a source even if the language of the piece is on a major news event by using exactly the same ideas in the same order as they appear in an article in any popular news magazine.

5. takes, buys, or receives a paper written by someone else and presents it as the student's own.

6. uses one paper for two different courses, or re-uses a paper previously submitted for credit, without the prior approval of the instructor or instructors.

Plagiarism will result in a failing grade on that assignment. A second plagiarized paper may result in an F for the course.

COURSE POLICIES

Student Contributions

ATTENDANCE IN THIS COURSE IS VITAL AND MANDATORY. Speech courses tend to promote student interaction, provoke discussion, and incorporate experiential learning. Not only is your involvement and participation in the class important, but also much of the test information will be provided in a lecture/discussion format

CLASS PARTICIPATION. Since this is a speech communication course, it is important that you attempt to contribute your ideas, thoughts and feeling regarding the concepts discussed in class. You are encouraged to voice opinions, respond to questions, and offer comments regarding course content and related topics discussed in class in an appropriate and tactful manner. Common courtesy and attentive listening skills are expected of all students.

PAPERS. Periodically you will be assigned a written paper, bibliography, agenda, exercise or exam dealing with a concept discussed in class. The paper should be word-processed and in good form and double-spaced. Excessive grammatical and typographical errors will be noted and will effect evaluation.

ORAL PRESENTATIONS. A variety of oral presentations will be given including reports, speeches, and group discussions. All topics must be approved in advance. Attendance on all presentation days is mandatory. Distracting or poor listening behaviors during another students' presentation may result in a reduction in your grade. Missed presentations may not be made-up except under unusual circumstances.

TESTS. Exams will be in different formats and will include material from lecture, text, class discussions, and handouts.
